The students of Physical Education of this university are encouraged to clean the available and unutilized spaces in nearby villages and to construct and layout play fields to encourage the children and youths to take part in Sports and Games and to develop the socialization among the village people. Students from various departments do involve in Village Placement Programme (VPP) as extension service to the public. Through this programme, health and fitness is assessed by collecting information through Physical measurements and questionnaire that consists of basic information of the residents, level of physical activity, dietary intake of the people, illness and medications. The collected data were subjected to statistical analysis. Based on the results, the residents were given counseling for maintaining healthy life style. This programme offers counseling and free treatment to various health issues through yoga therapy, alternative medicine, Naturopathy, Physiotherapy and yogic diet.
